

Economy of Uzbekistan

- Since gaining independence

- the Government of Uzbekistan
- has stated that it is committed

- to a gradual transition to a market-based economy.

The progress with economic policy reforms has been a cautious one,

but cumulatively Uzbekistan has shown respectable achievements

The government is yet to eliminate the gap between the black market

- and official exchange rates by successfully introducing convertibility of the national currency

Its restrictive trade regime and generally interventionist policies

- continue to have a negative effect on the economy.

Substantial structural reform is needed, particularly in these areas:

- improving the investment climate for foreign investors
- strengthening the banking system
- freeing the agricultural sector from state control.
